A Message from Mr. Lane...

With the May bank holiday ahead, the feeling that spring has arrived is evident throughout Oak Meadow with the vibrancy of learning matching the colour of the vast array of beautiful trees and plants that surround our school. I welcomed heads from across the St. Bartholomew's Trust recently and every one of them commended our truly outstanding learning environment whilst celebrating the magnificent learning attitudes of all children. I am always proud to open our doors to share the amazing achievements within every classroom and staff are currently working meticulously to plan our next enrichment week, 'This is me!' (week commencing Monday 20th May). I will send a letter shortly detailing arrangements for the week as well as extending an invite for you all to come in to tour the school and see the phenomenal work of the children. Looking ahead to next week, I know all of the Year 2 children and accompanying staff are looking forward to their Kingswood residential and counting down to the fun ahead. Have a great time children making everlasting, happy memories together! Take care everyone and please enjoy a relaxing, extended weekend.

Stars of the Week

Due to the May bank holiday, SATs week and our enrichment week 'This is me!' there will be no further celebration assemblies this half-term.
